 stream doth flow. Let the fire and cloud - y pil - lar lead me fears sub - side. Death of death, and hell's de - struc - tion, land me with thy power - ful hand. Bread of heav - en, bread of heav - en, all my jour - ney through. Strong de - liv - erer, strong de - liv - erer, safe on Ca - naan's side. Songs of prais - es, songs of prais - es feed me till I want no more; feed me till I want no more.

 be thou still my strength and shield; be thou still my strength and shield.
 I will ev - er give to thee; I will ev - er give to thee.

Few Welsh hymns are as well known or loved as this 18th-century text that did not gain its popular tune until the early 20th century. In both its original text and in English translation, it is a stirring hymn of pilgrimage filled with vivid imagery from Hebrew Scripture.

722 Lord, Speak to Me That I May Speak

1 Lord, speak to me that I may speak in liv - ing

Two great truths inform this text: first, that the testimony of experience is powerful and persuasive; and second, that no one should venture to minister on one's own strength rather than God's. The tune reflects a 19th-century practice of adapting piano pieces as hymn tunes.

In 1968 Easter fell ten days after the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr., and this text was written to express an Easter hope while mindful of that terrible event. Buoyed by a triple-arched tune, it affirms the presence of a wounded, risen Christ with all who suffer.
